

Dan Price
Cheshire
Police & Crime
Commissioner

Thinks
— Insight & Strategy —

Dear Resident,

The Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Cheshire (OPCC) is inviting you and other members of the public in the Congleton Local Policing Unit (LPU) to participate in a series of interactive workshops about policing and crime in Cheshire. This engagement will provide you with the opportunity to have your voice heard on these topics.

We have commissioned an independent research agency, Thinks Insight and Strategy (www.thinksinsight.com), alongside Plus Four Market Research (www.plus4.co.uk) to help us recruit participants.

Confirmation that this is legitimate research can be found here:

<https://www.cheshire-pcc.gov.uk/what-the-commissioner-does/police-and-crime-plan/listen-to-the-public/citizens-assembly/Congleton/>

The research will consist of participating in 3 x 4-hour face-to-face workshops.

The dates of the workshops are:

- Saturday 21st February 10am – 2pm at Congleton Town Hall
- Saturday 7th March 10am – 2pm at Holmes Chapel Community Centre
- Monday 23 March 6pm – 10pm at Victoria Hall, Middlewich.

Each workshop would be carried out by a team of experienced facilitators.

To thank you for your time, you will receive an incentive voucher payment via an online payment provided, Ayda. The incentive amount will be £250 paid the week after the final workshop.

Sign up today for the chance to have a say about policing and crime in your local area: www.plus4.co.uk/cheshire

Your contribution to this important work would be greatly appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

Jane Whalen

Assistant Police and Crime Commissioner